

ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

The Board of Education provides a wide range of technology resources to its students and staff for the purpose of advancing the educational mission of the Edmeston Central School District.

The Board of Education hereby establishes an acceptable use policy for all users of the district's technology resources. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: computers, laptops, tablets, Kindles, iPads, mp3 devices, interactive white board technology, projectors, Internet, wikis, websites, and any other network systems coordinated and provided for through the district. All users of the district's technology resources must indicate their acceptance of the policy guidelines before access to the resources can be allowed.

The Acceptable Use Policy provides details regarding the appropriate and inappropriate use of district technology. The procedures do not attempt to articulate all required or proscribed behavior by users. Successful operation of the district technology resources requires all users to conduct themselves in a responsible, decent, ethical, and polite manner while using the district's technology resources. This policy defines the use of personal technology during instructional and non-instructional times and reinforces the standard that all use. Regardless of its purpose, must follow the guidelines outlined in the Student Acceptable Use Policy, the District's Code of Conduct, and the Dignity for All Students Act.

This policy will be evaluated by the Board of Education based on recommendations and suggestions from the school administration and the greater school community.

ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY REGULATIONS FOR STUDENTS

As students prepare to enter a rapidly changing world where technology forms the infrastructure of communications, commerce and learning, the Board of Education believes that guiding students to be responsible, critical consumers and producers of information is essential to their success. The following regulations outline acceptable uses of the technology resources through the district. All uses of the district's network shall be subject to the Acceptable Use Policy.

Definitions:

- I. The term District Network means the district 's information and telecommunications systems (including, but not limited to, all computer hardware and peripherals, software applications, networks, Internet access, Intranet access, email accounts, online databases, web pages, network storage, news groups, bulletin boards, telephones, voicemail, district-issued or owned cellular phones, PDA/Smartphone devices/tablets/netbooks and any other information system, communication system or communication service known or hereafter developed).
- II. The term Educational Purposes includes the use of the District Network for academic or classroom activities, educational research and other learning opportunities consistent with the educational mission of the District.

Disclaimer of Liability:

The district makes no warranties of any kind, neither expressed nor implied, in connection with a user's provision of access to and use of the District Network and the Internet. The use of the District Network and Internet is at the user's own risk. The district is not liable for any claims, losses, damages, suits, expenses or costs of any kind incurred, directly or indirectly, by any user or his or her parent (s) or guardian(s) arising out of the use of the District Network or the Internet.

Acceptable Use of Technological Resources:

Acceptable use is defined as applying technology as an educational tool. Internet access and access to the District Network is provided by the district to foster learning experiences that are part of approved curriculum and/ or approved extracurricular activities. Uses of the Internet, the District Network or other district technology resources for any other purposes are prohibited, unless approved in writing by the administration. Access is a privilege, not a right. Access entails responsibility.

Social Media Websites:

Upon prior approval, social media may be used for educational purposes. "Social media" is defined as Internet based media, including, but not limited to, wikis, podcasts, RSS feeds, blogs, podcasts, and sites using digital images and video, Twitter, Facebook, YouTube and other social media websites. A student's use of social media must be preapproved by the Director of Information Systems and Technology, or his/her designees, in consultation with the building principal and follow the guidelines set forth in this policy and any social media policy, administrative regulation or guidelines established by the district. Any student found to be using social media inappropriately may face disciplinary action as outlined in this policy and the Code of Conduct.

No Expectation of Privacy:

All messages, communication and information created, sent or retrieved on the District Network are the property of the District. Electronic mail messages, voicemail messages, use of the District Network and other use of district technology resources, including Internet access, should not be considered private or confidential. The Superintendent, or his/her designee(s), may monitor, inspect, copy, review, access or store, at any time and without prior notice, any and all files, information and communications transmitted or received in connection with the individual's usage of the District Network. The district will cooperate with local, state or federal authorities in any investigations resulting from alleged inappropriate or illegal activity on or related to the District Network.

Personal Devices:

Staff and students may use personal devices to access the District Network. These devices include, but are not limited to, laptop computers, smart phones, tablet computers, iPads, netbooks, and mp3 players. All activities conducted on the District Network using a personal device, including messages, e-mails, communications, information and Internet access, are subject to monitoring, inspection, copying, review, access and storing by the district. There is no expectation of privacy, regardless of whether a personal or district-issued device is used to access the District Network. The district will not be liable for any damages, expenses or costs associated with the student's use of the personal device to access the District Network or in the event a student's personal device is lost, damaged or stolen.

Internet Filtering:

In order to comply with the requirements as outlined by the Children's Internet Protection Act, the district uses an Internet filtering software, among other measures, to protect against access to materials that are obscene, child pornography or harmful to minors. Internet filtering software or other technology-based protection measures may be disabled by the District Computer Coordinator and his/her designee(s) (in consultation with district leadership), as necessary, for the purposes of bona fide research or other educational purposes.

No Internet filter blocks all inappropriate material. All users and their parents/guardians are advised that access to the District Network may include the potential for access to materials inappropriate for school-aged students. The use of the District Network and Internet is at the user's own risk and every user is responsible for his or her use of the District Network, including the Internet. The district is not responsible for the accuracy of the information from the Internet accessed through the District Network. Parents and guardians of students bear responsibility for setting and conveying the appropriate standards that their children should follow when using media and information sources in and out of school.

Personal Safety & Confidentiality of Student Information:

In using the District Network and Internet, users are cautioned not to reveal personal information about themselves or others such as home addresses, telephone numbers, social security numbers and credit card numbers. Students should not use their last name or disclose other information that may allow someone to locate the student, without first obtaining the permission of a supervising teacher. Students should not arrange face-to-face meetings with a person contacted on the District Network or Internet, without parent or guardian permission. Personally identifiable information concerning students may not be disclosed or used in any way on the Internet without the permission of a parent or guardian or, if the student is 18 years or older, the student them self.

Prohibited Conduct:

The District reserves the right to limit and/or terminate Internet access, District Network access or other technology use privileges in the event it determines that a user has violated any district policy or regulation or any state or federal law. The following have been deemed inappropriate uses of technology by the district:

1) Cyberbullying:

If it is determined that students used or accessed the District Network, including Internet access, to engage in cyberbullying, the user will be subject to discipline consistent with the Code of Conduct. It should also be noted that "cyberbullying" is a misdemeanor punishable by a $1,000 fine and/or up to one year in jail.

- 2) Accessing, uploading, downloading or distributing pornographic, obscene or sexually explicit material.
- 3) Using the District Network for illegal activity, including copyright infringement, or for uses that violate the district's Code of Conduct or other policies.
- 4) Vandalizing the account or data of another user.
- 5) Gaining unauthorized access to another account, confidential records or District Network operations, including using another person's account name with or without permission.
- 6) Sharing personal user ID or password.
- 7) Using any method or means to bypass the Internet filtering system.
- 8) Disrupting or damaging equipment, software or the operations of the District Network, including creating or installing a computer virus or other damaging program.
- 9) Using district technology for personal or financial gain.
- 10) Installing or using personal software on an individual computer or the District Network.
- 11) Downloading software without permission.
- 12) E-mail broadcasting or "spamming."
- 13) Misrepresenting yourself by using a false/fictitious identity in any electronic communication.
- 14) Posting any material or information that may result in a disruption of normal school operations, including transmitting offensive or harassing messages.

Education:

In accordance with applicable law, including the Protecting Children in the 21st Century Act, the District will educate students about appropriate online behavior, including interacting with other individuals on social networking websites and in chat rooms and cyberbullying awareness and response.

Violations:

Any violations of this policy will be referred to the district administration and violations may subject students to disciplinary action, as set forth in the Code of Conduct. If applicable, violation of this policy may be referred to law enforcement. Students may also face a loss of Internet access, District Network access or other technology use privileges. In addition, the district may pursue legal action against a student (and his or her parents or guardians), who willfully, maliciously or unlawfully damages, destroys or misuses the District Network or other
